

JULIA GOLDBLATT

September 2, 1919 - September 3, 2016

Julia (Wiseman) Goldblatt was born Sept. 2, 1919 in London, England. She died peacefully at Kansas City Hospice House Sept. 3, 2016. Julia met her future husband, Norman Goldblatt, from KCMO, who was serving in the US Army in London in WW II. Postwar, they moved to Kansas City where Norman joined the Goldblatt Tool Company. Julia made lifelong friends in their Waldo neighborhood. In 1955 the family moved to Mission Hills. They joined The Temple, Congregation B'nai Jehudah, and Oakwood Country Club. Julia raised her two sons Andrew and Roger, socialized, enjoyed canasta and mahjong, traveled and shopped! She volunteered at several charitable organizations. Norman preceded her in death in 1981.

Julia enjoyed fine dining. On her 70th birthday she hosted a dinner cruise on the Missouri River for 200 guests who were greeted by the Marching Cobras as they disembarked. She cruised the world and climbed the Great Wall of China in her 70's. She took particular pride in her nephew, Martin Wiseman (Jane) of London, and their children.

Julia's mind was sharp until her final brief illness. Into her 90's she was active in the Daughters' of the British Empire and remained a UK citizen for life. With her energetic and buoyant comportment, her self-reliance, and her positive attitude in the midst of adversity, Julia was an extraordinary person. Always style conscious, she was a class act! "The Queen is dead. Long live the Queen!"

The family wishes to thank the caring staff at Menorah Hospital, Village Shalom, and especially KC Hospice House. A Memorial Service will be held at the Kansas City Hospice House, 12000 Wornall Rd, KCMO, Wednesday, September 7, 2016 at 1:00pm.

“ Julia joined our family for Passover Seders everal years ago. Without her beautiful voice our Rosen songs would have failed! She was an elegant lady.
