“ My fatherinlaw was an amazing person and friend. He has been a father to me for the past 29 years. His inspiration, guidance, and encouragement, helped make me a better person. As Andy's wife, (his second son) I grew so attached to him. Him being gone has left a huge hole in my heart. He will be very missed.

“ It was a great privilege for me to have the opportunity to know Maury both as my patient in the past and more recently as a member of the ROMEO's. He was also a delight to visit with and he will be sorely missed.

“ Maury, was a mentor and friend. I enjoyed our weekly Saturday morning breakfast conversations as well as the office visits when he came to see me. He will defiantly be missed. Hopefully he has found the perfect strudel and may potatoes never be served for breakfast.

“ My condolences to the entire Luchen family. While I never met Mr. Luchen, after hearing my very dear friend Andrea Luchen talk about him very often as a father, not an in-law, and the wonderful stories and memories from the service I feel like I know him very well. Everyone he touched has a much richer life because of what he imparted to them. The world is a better place because of the love he spread around.
