“ I have so many fond memories of Maxine. The light inside her shone brightly on everyone who was lucky enough to spend time with her. Her love of life and her vibrant, optimistic personality drew people to her. Even as a young child, I remember being excited to talk to her. Maxine was a wonderful friend to my grandmother (Dorothy Peltzman), and she was a wonderful friend to all of Dorothy's children and grandchildren. She always took the time to share stories about what life was like when they were all young married couples living in the same apartment building. I will never forget how excited Dorothy was when Maxine moved into the Atriums and she was able to reconnect with one of her dearest friends. While I extend my deepest sympathies to her family, I also want to say cheers to Maxine, for a life well lived. She was a very special woman.

“ Maxine was a special mother and mother-in-law, and an amazing Grandma to her only grandchild. One of the many things I admired about her was her appreciation for reading. Some of her favorite books must have been the ones she read to Gabriel, and he always loved her reading them to him. Some of my best memories are the two of them cuddled up on a couch or a bed reading and laughing together. It was pure Grandmother love, and she gave it with her entire heart. I will always be grateful for the unconditional love Maxine shared with every member of her family, and the special bond she had with Gabe.

“ Dear Julie, Ron and Howard,
What a wonderful mother you had. She was so good to me at a time in my life I really needed it. I have so many wonderful memories of her with all of her smiling and carrying around a laundry basket Saturday mornings. She would come into Julie's room and open the curtains to get her daughter and co-criminal out of bed after a long night of misbehaving. She never acted like we were annoying even though we were.

May you all share in the knowledge that she mattered so much to so many. Thanks for sharing her and Gerald with all who loved them both.

“ Aunt Maxine was my godmother, and with great joy she claimed the titles of grand-godmother to my sons, and great-grand-godmother to my grandson. My grandson's earliest memory is visiting Kansas City to celebrate her 90th birthday. She was especially close with my father and the picture of them I'm posting is one of my favorites, circa 1927. She was very special to me and I'm very grateful for the wonderful memories she created for me. Will love her always and miss her very much...

“ If you are lucky, you have someone in your life like I did-my Aunt Maxine. She was the most genuine and caring person I have ever met. Every time we talked-either in person or on the phone, there was always her sincere comments "How is Steve? How are the boys? Be sure and give that handsome husband a kiss for me." She stayed with us when Justin was born, and that is something I have been eternally grateful for. She adored her three children, and she appreciated all of the time they spent with her.
I will miss her more than words can say.

“ My aunt Maxine was the first adult in my life who didn't talk down to us as children, and was honest and real. I think that's why we loved her so much. She was always loving, warm, welcoming and accepting. My grandchildren can recite stories about times I spent at her house during summer vacations because they've heard them so often. She was well loved, and will be well missed.
